Suddenly Sandy was by his side, trying to take the puck away, but SpongeBob slid it behind him, spun around, faked twice, and slapped it . . . into the net!

Goal! The buzzer sounded. The game was over, and the Chum Bucket team had won—thanks to SpongeBob!

"I win! I win!" Plankton shrieked.

As SpongeBob's teammates carried him on their shoulders, he looked over and saw Plankton celebrating.

SpongeBob smiled. "I guess even Plankton deserves to be happy now and then," he said.

NICKELODEON

SpongeBob SQUAREPANTS

"He shoots! He scores!" SpongeBob amazes a hockey scout with his skills as he sweeps the Krusty Krab. Soon SpongeBob is playing professional hockey! But when it's time to play, he starts having second thoughts. Does SpongeBob really have what it takes to be a hockey superstar?

by David Lewman illustrated by Harry Moore

Look for more books about SpongeBob SquarePants at your favorite store!

created by Stephen Hillenburg

SIMON SPOTLIGHT/NICKELODEON
Simon & Schuster, New York
SimonSaysKids.com

Look for SpongeBob SquarePants books in Spanish!

This book is part of a package
(ISBN: 978-1-4169-8446-7)
and is not sold separately.